Classroom Library Questionnaire

Educators, how culturally responsive and diverse is your classroom library? Use the following questions as a guide to analyze your classroom library book collections and determine where there are strengths and where there are gaps in diversity.

To what extent do you agree with the following statements?

1. The classroom library contains multiple books that include . . .
   - non-human, anthropomorphic main characters (e.g., talking animals, talking trucks, talking vegetables, imaginary or science fiction creatures, etc.)

2. The classroom library contains numerous books that include . . .
   - main characters of color
   - main characters who are lesbian, gay, bisexual, or transgender
   - main characters with disabilities

3. The classroom library contains numerous books that . . .
   - are written or illustrated by a person of color or a Native/Indigenous person
   - feature a person of color or a Native/indigenous person on the front cover
   - feature contemporary diverse characters and storylines
   - feature a range of family structures and family configurations
   - feature characters with different types of gender identity and gender expression
   - are set in contemporary Asia
   - are set in contemporary Africa
   - are set in contemporary Europe
   - are set in contemporary Central or South America
   - are set in contemporary Oceania
   - are set in contemporary Native/First Nations/Indigenous regions
   - are set in contemporary North America (outside the United States)
   - are reflective of my students' cultures and heritages
   - explore different socioeconomic backgrounds
   - explore religious diversity
   - are set in different geographic settings (urban, rural, suburban)
   - are written in languages meaningful to my students' backgrounds or the community in which they live (e.g., Spanish, Chinese, Tagalog)
   - teach about immigration to the United States beyond the Ellis Island-narrative
   - teach about Black/African American contributions to the United States beyond the Civil Rights Movement
   - feature diversity throughout the year, not just in heritage and observance months (e.g., Black History Month, Native American History Month)
If your classroom library is not as diverse and culturally responsive as you want it to be for your students . . . you are not alone!

4. The majority of books featuring people of color or Native/Indigenous people . . .

- are only about issues of race, prejudice, or discrimination
- are only culturally specific (e.g., flags, foods, festivals)
- are only culturally neutral or contain incidental diversity

5. The classroom library contains some books that include . . .

- harmful stereotypes about a group of people
- inaccurate/ outdated information about a group of people
- generalizations about a group of people
- misrepresentations of a group of people
- discriminatory content about a group of people
- non-authentic stories about a group of people

6. The classroom library reflects the diversity of my students and the community in which we live (e.g., gender, race, family structure, language, culture, socioeconomic background, etc.)
